ABOUT THE TRAINING COURSE

WESTAR's Air Quality Training Program will host an Intermediate New Source Review/Prevention of Significant Deterioration (NSR/PSD) training course. The objectives of the course are to provide attendees with a review of important case law, regulatory requirements, and policies pertaining to the major New Source Review program, and provide attendees a set of tools that will enable the attendee to identify pertinent regulatory and policy materials in the months and years following the course.

Major topics

- New Source Review Program – Background and History
- Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) Applicability
- PSD Requirements
  - BACT
  - NAAQS Analysis
  - Increment and Other Analyses
- Nonattainment Area Applicability and Requirements

This training is intended for air staff with some regulatory experience and is open to state/local/tribal air regulatory air staff.

Air staff from WESTAR member states receive registration preference.

REGISTRATION FEES: There are no registration fees for state/local/tribal air quality staff. For EPA and other Federal staff there is a $200 registration fee.
